Border Youth Tennis Exchange

Charlie Cutler was a 4 year All-American tennis player from St. Louis, not good enough, as he put it, to play Monte Carlo or Wimbledon, but his circuit played a lot in Latin American countries, where he found a stark contrast between the slums and the elites, and this led him from 2 years of coaching tennis at the University of San Francisco to an MA in International Human Rights, a focus on refugee politics and policy and an internship with the Border Community Alliance. BYTE's mission is to enhance the lives of children in US and Mexican border communities through sports, education, and cross-border exchange. Their curriculum instills discipline, commitment, and positive life habits, as well as addressing regional public health concerns.
