Flags on the Fourth

If you look closely, there's a flag in this picture, rather close to the beer, as it happens. President Julie's plan to divide up the flag collection last year made short work of it and made time for a very nice bbq social. Plans for this year are very similar, with a picnic/social at soon-to-be President Jill's place, so be sure to sign up.

President Julie read a very nice thank-you letter from Nancy McGibbon for the $2000 donation the Club made to TROT in her honor. And Eugene Friesen explained his project to donate money for books for the women in 4 tribes in Uganda, saying he was aiming for $500, and several members pledged amounts that added up to more in just 60 seconds or so. Way to go, Rotarians.

Coming Events

Senior Support Alliance

John Jay Brosky, founder of the Senior Support Alliance, is a real estate broker with over 30 years of experience. He described the Alliance as a 1-stop resource for senior services. It has 4 facets: business, social, educational, and charitable. Brosky works with seniors, their families, and their trusted advisors with their later-in-life relocations and transitions.

Rose Muzzy has worked with the Twilight Wish Foundation for 13 years. She said it is often difficult for a senior to know who to trust. Her service specializes in locating licensed private adult care homes and senior assisted living centers, all at no cost to the senior. Her daughter is her partner.

Ann Marie Bonito deals with the Support Alliance's social facet, with Medicare AZ and Tucson Social Services. She asked, "who will be your end-of-life caregiver?" She showed us a vital information binder with dozens of details our person will need to know: medical, financial, even about pets. Our speakers held a drawing for the binder, which usually sells for $20. (520) 314-1011 to order one.

Steve Wolf deals with "home equity conversion," usually called reverse mortgages, which he said are very misunderstood.
