Uganda Books

On May 15 Eugene Friesen told us about 4 tribes in Uganda (NW corner of Lake Victoria in Africa) where the women need books, and he invited us to help raise $500. Bing-bing-bing, around the room it went, and we raised $650. Our Club will donate cash, and the Uganda Club will find the needed books. Eugene has been our point man for several of our international projects over the years, especially in Thailand.

Equine Voices

Karen Pomroy started Equine Voices Rescue and Sanctuary in Amado in 2004 with the rescue of 4 horses. By 2015 she had rescued over 600. She provides a safe haven for unwanted PMU (pregnant mare urine) mares and foals. The estrogen replacement Premarin is made (and named) from that urine, and the mares are kept constantly pregnant to keep the supply up. The drug's side effects include cancer, dementia, and blood clots.

Many of the horses Pomroy has rescued were victims of serious abuse; not all of them survive. She has also rescued wild horses, including some from open spaces in Rancho Sahuarita in recent years. Equine voices has grown from a 1-woman operation to a GFAS (Global Federation of Animal Sanctuaries) accredited organization. They have a sponsorship program, many fund-raising events, and an adoption program. They have a significant event coming up November 11. Pomroy believes in creating a world of compassion one horse at a time.
